June 2025

Dear parents/guardians,

A consistent commitment to learning is at the core of growth and development. Simultaneously, it is important that summer be a time when we can all relax and rejuvenate. Knowing both of these things, it is important that students have consistent access to learning materials and opportunities for skills maintenance during the summer in order to reduce the potential for the “summer slide.” As a staff, we have reflected on our summer learning expectations and in an attempt to balance high interest for students with active participation. As we conclude the 2024-2025 school year, we have worked to provide access to summer learning opportunities that will afford students the opportunity to meet with success on skills already instructed while also maintaining their skills in both math and ELA, but it is important to note that we also recognize the high value of social-emotional wellness as being critical to the development of our students. For these reasons, this summer’s experience will afford a variety of opportunities for students to demonstrate a commitment to maintaining their skills while also resting, relaxing, and having fun!

It is our hope that families will encourage participation in summer learning in a fashion that supports individual students’ interests. We strongly encourage students to participate in these meaningful summer learning experiences, which is why staff have worked so hard to identify opportunities that are of high relevance. Research continues to indicate that students who have access to and participate in meaningful learning experiences over the summer will start the school year off stronger and better prepared than those who do not. The maintenance of a partnership between the school and home that encourages investment in a culture of learning is meaningful and powerful for everyone.

All learning experiences, regardless of grade level or course, are aligned to age-appropriate curricular experiences with the overarching expectation being that all students are striving for excellence each day...even in the summer.

The success of student participation requires a joint effort of encouragement from the district and the home, so students can return to school in August prepared to learn. Links to the appropriate grade band and content websites outlining these experiences can be found on the Allamuchy Township School District website [HERE] and through the Quick Links navigation bar on the left side of the landing page.

Should you have any questions, please feel free to reach out at any time.

Sincerely,

Charles Seipp, Ed. D.
