

DIGITAL CITIZENSHIP

From : Kathleen Morris - Primary Tech:
Digital Footprints and Online Reputations

What you should know about your digital footprint?

- When you decide to visit different websites, think about the information that can remain, even if it has been deleted from your computer
- Be alert and focused about what you decide to search or share on the internet
- Leaving a digital footprint can be helpful but it can also be a problem to your reputation (Beliefs or opinions about someone), both now and down the road in the future. Make sure you are aware of what you attach your name to when creating a profile.
- Always remember, things have potential to exist forever online.

- Give lots of thought and review before you ever post anything
- If you share your personal opinions or information with one person, remember it can be shared with others.
- Delete old accounts including ones that are inactive
- USE PRIVACY SETTINGS TO PROTECT YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION
- Ask others before you tag others (especially with photos)
